The Contractor shall, except as otherwise specified, keep the work in good repair for one calendar year after the date of contract close out. The Contractor shall, at his own expense, correct and repair promptly all breaks, failures, or wear due to faulty material, workmanship, or equipment, and all settlements and irregularities of surface that may occur during that period.

The Contractor, upon the expiration of the period of one year from the date of contract close out, shall be entitled to receive the percentage retained, provided he has fully performed all obligations under this Contract, including all necessary repairs to the work during the guarantee period. No interest shall be due from or payable by the Owner on the retained percentage.

If the Contractor has failed to make any of the repairs required under his guarantees, he shall be entitled to receive only such part of the retained percentage as may remain after the expense to the Owner of making such necessary repairs to the work or equipment shall have been deducted therefrom. Should the Owner direct the Contractor to correct work that has been damaged or that has not been performed in accordance with the Contract Documents, an equitable deduction from the Contract Amount shall be made to compensate the Owner for the uncorrected work.

GENERAL CONDITIONS AND INSTRUCTION TO BIDDERS

Telephone Number ➤	1/28/22

The Contractor shall, except as otherwise specified, keep the work in good repair for one calendar year after the date of contract close out. The Contractor shall, at his own expense, correct and repair promptly all breaks, failures, or wear due to faulty material, workmanship, or equipment, and all settlements and irregularities of surface that may occur during that period.

The Contractor, upon the expiration of the period of one year from the date of contract close out, shall be entitled to receive the percentage retained, provided he has fully performed all obligations under this Contract, including all necessary repairs to the work during the guarantee period. No interest shall be due from or payable by the Owner on the retained percentage.

If the Contractor has failed to make any of the repairs required under his guarantees, he shall be entitled to receive only such part of the retained percentage as may remain after the expense to the Owner of making such necessary repairs to the work or equipment shall have been deducted therefrom. Should the Owner direct the Contractor to correct work that has been damaged or that has not been performed in accordance with the Contract Documents, an equitable deduction from the Contract Amount shall be made to compensate the Owner for the uncorrected work.
