EXCEPTIONS
(IF NONE, PLEASE NOTE)

We visited the site on 5-9-2025 and spoke with Taya Brown-Humphrey about the Pratt Valves to be replaced. Based on the site conditions we were unable to directly access the valves, for tag information or direct measurements.

We found that the 24" Pratt butterfly valves are not readily available and are manufactured and assembled overseas. Also, very little to no USA support.

We recommend using Bray 36H series- 24" butterfly valves. While they are also assembled overseas they are readily available in stock, have USA support and are a superior product.

The Bray valve disc is coated with nylon 11 enabling little to no stick when compared to the Pratt valve. The Pratt valve is not coated and it's much easier for build up to accumulate.

The Bray bolt pattern will be identical, the seat material will be identical, body material will be identical and we have a complete machine shop so we can modify any actuator geometry to fit the Bray system if needed.

See attached Bray cut sheet (36 Series).
